Prison for pub thug who bit man's face

■ SO HAPPY TOGETHER . . . it was 75 years ago that Sid and Sophie Benson met in a London chemist's shop. This week, the couple celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary. See full story – Page 2.

A PUB goer who sank his teeth into another man's face during a violent early morning attack has been jailed for almost two years.

Lee Boyle, 26, had to be poked in the eye to make him release his teeth from his victim's face, Ipswich Crown Court heard on Monday.

The attack in High Street, Haverhill, shortly after 1am on September 6, 2006, followed an incident at The Bell public house late the previous evening, said Christopher Morgan, prosecuting.

Boyle, of Argyll Court, Haverhill, had been ejected from the pub by door staff after barging between a partially deaf man and a friend and then uttering a stream of aggressive abuse at close range when they looked at him.

Mr Morgan said the victim, the partially deaf man, left The Bell with the intention of continuing his night out in Newmarket and was walking along the High Street when he became aware of a group of people behind him.

He turned to see a number of the group were shouting at him. Boyle had pulled up his white hooded top and ran at him, landing a blow on the victim's face. Both men ended up on the ground where Boyle sank his teeth into the right hand side of his victim's face.

Meanwhile a second man, who Boyle later told police he did not know, joined in the violent attack by kicking and punching the victim while on the ground. That led to injuries, for which Boyle was not responsible, that further damaged the man's hearing.

Mr Morgan said the victim, who was in great distress, finally poked Boyle in the eye to make him release his bite. Moments later, police arrived at the scene and while there one of the officers recognised Boyle, who was subsequently arrested nearly four weeks later.

During police interviews Boyle refused to answer any questions but was picked out by his victim during an identification parade.

Boyle was charged with assault causing actual bodily harm and was bailed by police but then disappeared until early this year when he was re-arrested.

He had been due to stand trial at Ipswich Crown Court after denying the offence but later changed his plea to guilty.

Helen Chapman, appearing for Boyle, said despite his poor previous record of court appearances for violent offences, he had now made real progress after stopping drinking and getting a job as a steel erector. Boyle did not know the second man in the attack.

Jenny strolls on for hospice cash

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A LONG-STANDING supporter of St Nicholas Hospice is putting on her trainers to complete a sponsored walk in aid of the Weekly News Hospice at Home appeal.

The £40,000 appeal – which will allow patients in Haverhill and surrounding villages to receive treatment in their own homes rather than travelling to the Bury St Edmunds hospice – has already topped the £12,000 mark, thanks to the generosity of our readers.

Now, Jenny Porteous, of Ash Grove, Haverhill, is doing her bit to help boost the total.

She will be joined by friends Janet Etheridge, Pat Shanks and Lucy the dog when they set off on a six-mile trek around Ashdon on Tuesday, June 17. Anyone who would like to sponsor their effort should call (01440) 704493.

Jenny, 63, has helped to raise more than £2,000 for the hospice over the years.

She said she had decided all her fundraising this year would go to our hospice appeal.

"I have a lot of spare time and I like to make things, so I sell them for the hospice," she said. "Your appeal is going great guns and as a supporter I am really pleased it is going so well."

"It is just three of us and a dog going on the walk, so it is not a big thing, but we will raise what we can to help."

Ian Norris, community fundraiser for St Nicholas, said Jenny had been helping to bring in cash for the hospice for several years and raised around £1,000 a year from various activities, including making and selling cards and calendars and organising coffee mornings. Last year she shrugged aside her phobia in a sponsored snake handling event, which raised around £200.

Ian said: "Jenny is wonderful, she has raised money for several years and quietly goes on behind the scenes doing bits and pieces and all those things add up to make a lot of money."

"She is one of those people who does a lot of things without expecting any recognition. She also enjoys doing it, which is a real bonus."

Jenny's cards can be bought in the Weekly News office, in Queen Street, Haverhill.

■ Meanwhile, more events have been planned to help us reach the total.

There's a 1960s dance with The Fortunes at Wickhambrook Memorial Social Club on Friday, June 13, and a rock gig at Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday, June 21, hosted by Umbrella Assassins.

For The Fortunes tickets at £12 ring (01440) 728757, (01440) 820155 or (01440) 820481 and for rock tickets ring (01440) 714140.

■ Haverhill Charity Golf Classic on Saturday, June 28, will also be raising money for the appeal. For more information contact Chris Briggs on (01440) 703769.

How can you help hit the target?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible. If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank.

Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An online donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Platinum party for lucky couple

A COUPLE who met in a chemist's shop 75 years ago celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary this week.

Sid and Sophie Benson, were set to mark their platinum anniversary at their home in Tudor Close, Haverhill, on Thursday.

Sophie, 91, and Sid, 90, met in London where he worked in a chemist's shop after school and she came in with her friend. The couple hit it off right away and since they married have had two sons and one daughter, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Sid trained to be a chemist and later served in the Army, the Royal Air Force and the Navy. Sophie trained as a court dressmaker, but never took up the trade after her marriage.

The couple were not planning on having a big party as Sid has not been in the best of health, but all of their family have been visiting to help celebrate the milestone anniversary.

Sophie said: "We had a house straight away, we were very lucky, we have led lucky lives. We have had six houses and we designed all but two of them ourselves. One was sold to the ambassador to Dubai and we always worked on doing them together."

She added: "Children don't ask to be born and if you have them they are your responsibility to care for."

"We have always looked after our children and now the whole family is wonderful to us."

Delays to work on A1307 upgrade

COUNCIL officials have admitted work to improve a road junction where two teenagers have died could be held up.

But they have pledged to do all they can to keep the delay to a minimum.

A £200,000 improvement scheme on the A1307 at Cardinals Green was originally hoped to have been completed by the end of this summer's school holiday.

But a BT fibre optic cable running under the middle of the road needs to be dug up, and it is possible the junction scheme may not now be finished until the school holiday in October.

Demands for safety improvements at the junction have grown since the deaths of 15-year-old Imogen Barker in February last year, and 16-year-old Alice Westland this March.

Both girls died after getting off at the bus stop opposite the junction and were involved in accidents with vehicles as they tried to cross the road.

Cambridgeshire County Council says it has made work on the junction a priority.

Amanda Mays, team leader for road safety engineering at the council, said: "We don't have guaranteed dates at the moment, but we think there may be a short delay."

"We need to talk to BT about the cable, and there are also some nearby ponds that have to be checked for the presence of newts, as the law demands."

The council is planning to release draft design plans for the junction work in mid-June, she said.

"We are trying to get the work done with as little delay as necessary," she said.

Her words were echoed by Stuart Miller, chairman of Horseheath Parish Council. He said: "We too want to see it done as quickly as possible."

Theft from lorry

A WHITE Lexus lorry parked in a lay-by was broken into.

Thieves smashed a window and stole a DVD player, a drill, a sat nav and a wallet.

The theft happened at Henderson Close, Haverhill, between 10pm on Sunday and 5am the following morning. The wallet and cards were found discarded in the road.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Rupert Beynon at the Haverhill North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100.

Vandalism attack

A GROUP of youths damaged a black Citroen C4 parked in a Haverhill street by scratching and denting the bumper.

The damage was caused at Girton Road at around 3.30pm on Thursday, May 22, and anyone with information should call Pc Sarah Reavill at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Widow's hunt for bracelet

A HEARTBROKEN widow is hoping to get back a bracelet she lost which was the last gift she received from her husband before he died.

Ann Huxley's husband Alf died suddenly three years ago, not long after he gave her the bracelet, which is a gold bangle with a round ball at each end which clasps around the wrist. Mrs Huxley, from Kedington, believes she may have lost the bracelet while attending a school sports day at Burton End Primary School in Haverhill on Friday, May 23. She said: "I am devastated, I am so upset because it was the last thing he gave me before he died. I have hunted everywhere but I cannot find it. It is not of any great monetary value, it is purely sentimentality. I am hoping that someone might find it and give it back."

Anyone who finds the bracelet should ring (01440) 708468.

Sign up for free bulbs

FREE light bulbs are being given away to mark World Environment Day.

The giveaway aims to encourage people to reduce their individual carbon emissions.

The low energy light bulbs can be collected from St Edmundsbury Borough Council offices until next Thursday.

Those collecting one of the 2,000 bulbs will be asked to sign a personal carbon dioxide reduction pledge. They will also receive a voucher for a 5 per cent discount on their first order of light bulbs.

All the pledges will go into a free prize draw to win a portable wind-up, solar powered radio.

The 2,000 light bulbs will save 52 tonnes of carbon dioxide over a year.

Moonlight shows the way to charity cash

STORE manager Linda Alexander decided it was time to get fit and has just completed a 26-mile moonlit walk to raise £2,500 for breast cancer research.

Linda, 46, is a former manager of Sainsbury's supermarket in Haverhill and now manages the company's Bury St Edmunds store. Staff members and customers from both stores supported her effort as she took part in the Playtex Moonwalk, which started and finished in Hyde Park, London, last month.

The walk started just before midnight and it took Linda, of Hanchett End, Haverhill, eight hours to complete the 26.2 mile distance.

Linda said she was very grateful to all her colleagues and customers who had sponsored her and was really pleased to raise so much money. She said: "Someone in my store asked me if I would do it and I thought it was time to get fitter so I agreed. I have walked more than 300 miles in training since Christmas and it is definitely important to do the training. At four o'clock in the morning I realised just how worthwhile my training was.

"It was quite an experience, there were 17,000 people there and it was exciting to be part of that. They had a minute's silence and everyone sang You'll Never Walk Alone before we started and it was really quite moving. My mother died with cancer so it was very close to my heart. It was thinking about the money I was going to raise and everyone who supported me that kept me going."

Julie Collis, of Sainsbury's, said: "Staff and customers were really good about supporting Linda. I think they liked doing it because it was for breast cancer research."

Axe falls on 28 jobs at local factory

NEARLY 30 workers are set to lose their jobs at a Haverhill company.

Titon, which makes ventilation systems and window and door hardware, has revealed it is planning 28 redundancies at its site in Falconer Road. A further five jobs will also go at the Colchester site of the company, which employs 200 people in total.

In a statement, the firm blamed rising costs and the worldwide "credit crunch" for the job cuts. The statement said: "Titon operates in an increasingly competitive market sector. Initially, problems occurred as a result of escalating raw material costs, which had made the manufacture of our products more expensive.

"Although some of this cost increase has been successfully passed through the supply chain, our margins have been further eroded by the worsening pound-euro exchange rate.

"Yet greater pressure caused by the growing worldwide credit crisis has now forced the company directors to consider staff levels at both Colchester and Haverhill sites. While efforts have been made to find cost savings without recourse to redundancies, we can no longer delay the inevitable.

"The directors consider that this action will carry Titon through this particularly difficult period.

"Meanwhile, we will do everything possible to minimise the impact to both our staff and our customers."

Jail for bite man

"It was not a case where he was holding down the victim," she said.

Miss Chapman said that Boyle accepted that he had injured his victim's face and had delivered a single punch, but had not been involved in kicking or further punching.

Boyle had lost his job as a result of being arrested and kept in custody for breaching bail.

Sentencing him, Judge John Devaux said: "Looking at your own actions in isolation, here you are putting your hood up, charging at this man and attacking him. It is the sort of thing you seem to revel in."

Boyle was jailed for 21 months for the assault and a further two months for breaching his bail, with the sentence reduced by the 21 days that he had already spent in custody.

Motorist banned over zebra-crossing injury

A SCAFFOLDER who hit a woman on a pedestrian crossing while trying to clear ice from his wind-screen has avoided a jail term.

Instead, Gary Kirkby, 47, has been handed a suspended prison term with a warning that if he fails to comply with an order to complete 200 hours of unpaid community work he could end up in custody.

Kirkby, of Manor Farm Close, Haverhill, had denied a charge of dangerous driving, but was found guilty by a jury at Ipswich Crown Court.

Passing sentence, Mr Recorder Martyn Levett said he had taken Kirkby's bad driving record into account, including offences of careless driving, failing to stop

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

for a police officer and speeding.

But Mr Levett said he was satisfied that while the incident had led to a pedestrian being seriously injured, there had been no intent to cause harm by Kirkby.

He was sentenced to 51 weeks in prison suspended for two years and banned from driving for three years.

He will also have to take a new driving test before he is allowed back behind the wheel.

During the trial, the jury heard that student Kate Trowse had been on her way to college in Cambridge when she stepped on to a zebra crossing in Withersfield Road, Haverhill.

Leaving the town at the same time was Kirkby, at the wheel of a Mitsubishi four-wheel drive pickup. At the crossing, Kirkby failed to stop, hitting Miss Trowse.

The nearside wheels of the vehicle passed over her as she lay in the road.

It resulted in Miss Trowse suffering a broken and crushed pelvis, and she spent time in hospital undergoing treatment and recovering from her injuries.

Witnesses reported that Kirkby, a partner in AK Scaffolding, had his arm out of the driver's door window trying to clear ice and frost from the windscreen.

Mitigating, Micaila Williams said Kirkby was truly sorry for the harm he had caused and there had been no intent on his part.

Kirkby must pay £1,895 costs.

PICK OF THE PETS

THE Stour Valley branch of Cats Protection has cats desperately looking for new homes. Some arrive as strays, many are unwanted or simply abandoned. Others come from loving homes that, due to circumstances, are unable to care for them any longer. When a cat comes in, it is given a complete health check by a vet which includes worming, removing all unsolicited visitors (fleas, earmites, etc) and dental checks, ensuring that when that special home comes along, it leaves in the best possible health. The welfare of cats is top priority and the branch always visits prospective owners first to make sure of the best possible home. It is the Cats Protection League's policy never to put a healthy animal down and it welcomes any donation from new owners. If you can offer a home to any of the cats contact (01440) 730096.

Hil We are Smudge, left, and Boots, right. We are currently lodging at Haverhill and Stour Valley Cats Protection until we can find a home. We have been here almost nine months and have seen many lucky cats going to new homes with kind new owners. Surely it has to be our turn soon? It's true we may be a little timid when we first meet people, but the minute we know we can trust someone we become very affectionate. We may not have exciting colours in our coats like those posh types, but it doesn't make us any less important than other cats. Our dream home is a quiet place with no young children or dogs. Please will you give us a chance?

■ If you are interested in this lovely, inseparable pair of three-year-olds, please call cats protection on (01440) 730 096 or email haverhillcats@hotmail.co.uk Or better still, you can meet them at the Haverhill and Stour Valley Cats Protection re-homing day at Haverhill Library on Saturday from 11am-2pm.

Thieves take bag

A HANDBAG was stolen from a house in Haverhill in the early hours of the morning and later found outside with some of its contents missing.

The burglary happened at Vetch Walk between 1.30am and 6.30am last Thursday when thieves gained entry to the house through an unlocked door. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to DC Jacqui Mumford at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100.

The plan also includes replacing an oil tank in a new position at the Post Office and Stores, Thorns Corner, Wickhambrook.

Doctor bids farewell to 'happy' practice

A DOCTOR who has treated thousands of patients since he moved to Haverhill more than 30 years ago has finally hung up his stethoscope.

Dr Hari Bonthala Mohan, along with his wife Shashi, said goodbye to colleagues when he retired from the Christmas Matings Surgery. They included Dr Derek Hill, who was a partner at the practice when he first arrived in October 1977.

Dr Mohan, 62, was born in India where he trained in medicine, but decided to move to England to further his professional career.

He worked as a GP and at a London hospital, before moving to Haverhill, where he has 2,300 registered patients.

Dr Mohan said:

"Despite all you hear about the town, people have always been good to me, although there has never been a dull moment. A lot of my patients tell me they regard me as a member of the family."

"One achievement has been keeping the practice together and keeping it running smoothly. It has been a happy practice." He added: "My daughter is getting married in September in a marquee in the garden of our home at Brockley Green, so that will keep me busy. Then I may do a bit of travel and then come back here if they need me on a part-time basis, so I will still be around."

Group's big plans for new health centre

MINOR surgery, child weight loss programmes and emergency contraception are some of the services a new 24-hour Haverhill health clinic should offer.

That's the view of a newly-formed group of patients and medical experts, which wants the ideas incorporated into the clinic when it opens next year.

Members of the group are helping to shape the future of the £800,000, GP-led health centre that will open from 8am-8pm, seven days a week, with walk-in services, including a minor injuries clinic.

The centre would bring additional GP services, other NHS services, public or voluntary sector organisations and private health care providers under one roof.

Current ideas for the centre include an extended-hours GP service, minor surgery, advice for people who want to stop drinking or smoking and help for children to lose weight.

Health visitors, district nurses and services to reduce the number of sexually transmitted diseases, and offer emergency contraception, could also be based in the centre.

The advisory group, the Haverhill Locality Group, is made up of elected representatives from Suffolk, St Edmundsbury and Haverhill councils, the Haverhill Associations of Voluntary Organisations, Suffolk Primary Care Trust, GPs from the three existing practices in the town as well as carers and patients.

Providers are now being invited to put in expressions of interest to run the services, which are set to start in April. They are likely to be housed in existing or temporary health care facilities but there are plans to find a permanent home for the services, which could involve a purpose-built centre or a refurbished facility in Haverhill.

Chairman of the group, Tim Holland-Smith, said: "Our chief aim is to ensure that local people and GPs can put forward their views of what they believe are the most important services for Haverhill and its surrounding area, to get the maximum benefit from this new facility."

"Our final representations on what services should be provided, and indeed the location of the new centre, will be decided at a future meeting."

■ REVAMP . . . the ageing Haverhill Leisure Centre will close its doors later this month to allow builders to move in and start work on a £5.2million, year-long, revamp. CP

Goodbye centre, hello . . . Pod?

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

EXERCISE fans will have to say goodbye to their usual gym shortly, but should get ready to say hello to a new "pod" building, which will temporarily house all their favourite machines.

Work on a £5.2 million revamp of Haverhill Leisure Centre is set to get under way later this month.

Staff are now busy making arrangements to keep the fitness studio and classes operational during the 12-month closure, which includes erecting a temporary building adjacent to the centre.

The Pod, as it has been dubbed, will open on Tuesday, June 17 and house an exercise class studio and a 60-station fitness room, complemented by showers and toilets adjacent to the leisure centre, so the existing car park can stay open.

To carry out the move, the fitness studio will close at 10pm on Wednesday, June 11.

Warren Smyth, chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, which runs the centre, said: "We are pleased to be able to provide the local community with alternative facilities over the next year."

"The Pod offers a high quality facility that we are confident our customers will enjoy using."

The centre itself will shut its doors on Sunday, June 15.

The St Edmundsbury Borough Council-funded revamp will see improvements made to the wet and dry changing rooms, an extension to the current fitness studio and a new poolside spectator area.

The front of the building will also be given a new look that will form part of the new leisure area created by the addition of the nearby cinema and restaurants project.

Floral fundraiser

A FLOWER festival and craft fair will be held at St Margaret's Church, Stradishall, on Saturday, June 28 and Sunday, June 29.

The event takes place between 11am and 4.30pm, and visitors are welcome to go along and see some flower arrangements, as well as enjoy refreshments and a cake stall. The beautiful church is Grade 1 Listed and its members are raising money for a new roof, after just raising the £20,000 for the bells, which were re-hung and re-dedicated in April.

Car taken from pub

A CAR was stolen from a pub car park at Haverhill where it was parked overnight. The black Toyota Celica Coupe, registration RA53ZTE, was stolen from the Rose and Crown car park in Withersfield Road between 4pm on Tuesday, May 27 and 8.15pm on Wednesday, May 28. Overcoming barriers to welcome new neighbours Conversations in Polish and Portuguese can be heard more and more frequently on street corners in Haverhill these days.

Migrant workers from the two countries have flocked to the town over the past year or so, and efforts are being made to help them integrate within the local community and to share some of their cultural differences with local residents. Figures for the whole of St Edmundsbury up to September last year show a total of 855 migrant workers arrived in the district, which represents 12.5 per cent of the Suffolk total, although many more have arrived since that time.

Figures based on the National Insurance Registration Scheme on a county-wide basis show that: ■ immigrants included three men for every two women,

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

- 93 per cent work full-time,
 - 77 per cent are aged between 18 and 34,
 - 50 per cent intend to stay less than three months but 29 per cent have not made a decision, and that
 - 7 per cent will be "residents" staying here for one year or more.
- St Edmundsbury Borough Council recently joined forces with local Polish translator Monika Drag to host an information and advice event at Haverhill Arts Centre.
- Jane Chance, community development officer for the borough council, said it was very successful. She said: "We had 15 organisations and agencies represented and had a good turn out from both the Polish and Portuguese communities. All the organisations I spoke with on the day

■ LEARNING THE LANGUAGE . . . Polish and Portuguese workers attending new free English classes in Haverhill.

felt that it was a really positive experience and gave them the opportunity to speak to members of the new communities in a completely friendly and informal way. "All the feedback I received from the Polish and Portuguese communities was also positive, with everyone saying that they found the event useful to them and that we should repeat it in the future, which is always nice to hear. "The food, which was provided by the families involved in the event, was amazing and gave us all the chance to try something that was really different. So all in all, a great success." Ms Chance said the majority of those coming to live and work in Haverhill do so to work within the food-producing industries, with Dalehead Foods in Linton, and Grampian and Percy Daltons some of the major employers

Some of the workers will be more than qualified for other work, but may have language difficulties, or do not have their qualifications recognised by English companies. Certificates and covering letters have been given to some to help with their job prospects. Others will have worked in similar industries or agriculture in their home countries, which would be low paid. The Haverhill Organisation of Voluntary Organisations (HAVO) also had noticed a marked increase in approaches from Polish and Portuguese residents and recently launched free English classes for both languages. These have been so successful that a second 10-week course is being considered for the classes, which are organised by HAVO with funding help from Unite The Union and the Workers' Education Association. Workers from Dalehead Foods were the first to attend classes in Haverhill, with 16 signing up on the first night.

Michael Simpkin, of HAVO, said: "We have noticed a substantial increase in the number of Polish and Portuguese people in the town and the numbers are growing all the time.

"The language does seem to be the main barrier for them. My son is moving to Poland in October and although his wife is Polish, I think he will still feel isolated at first because he does not speak the language.

"A lot of people have said that they did find the event at the arts centre helpful in making them feel more integrated."

Anyone who is interested in English classes should contact HAVO on (01440) 714140.

Royal praise for car blaze hero's 'amazing' rescue

A RELUCTANT hero who says he did nothing out of the ordinary by pulling a driver free from a blazing car is to receive a top lifesaving award.

Adrian Cooper, 35, of Clarendale estate, Great Bradley, and Philip Allen, of Kidderminster, put their lives on the line as they raced towards a burning car to rescue a trapped driver following an accident on the M4 in January. For their efforts they will receive a Royal Humane Society testimonial on vellum, signed by the society's president, Princess Alexandra.

Mr Cooper and Mr Allen won the personal praise of the society's secretary, Dick Wilkinson, for the rescue between junctions 17 and 16 in Wiltshire.

Mr Wilkinson said: "Approaching a burning car is always dangerous, it could explode at any time. But these two men had little thought for their own safety as they reached inside to pull this man free."

"Showing further courage, they then risked still more danger from fast-moving traffic to get this man to the safety of the hard shoulder."

"It was an horrific crash and they showed amazing courage in the way they tackled the situation. They both thoroughly deserve their awards."

Mr Cooper and Mr Allen were travelling on the motorway in separate

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

cars when they saw a vehicle crash, overturn and come to rest on its roof in the middle lane, then it rapidly caught fire.

They both pulled over to the hard shoulder and went to the aid of the driver, who was still in the burning vehicle, and pulled the injured man to safety.

Mr Cooper, a father of two who covers close to 30,000 miles a year in his job as a retail project manager refitting shops around the country, said he was pleased to be receiving the award, but did not believe he was a hero.

He said: "It happened right in front of me and my first reaction was just to stop and help."

"There were a lot of other people there and although the car was on fire, it was not a blazing inferno."

"I am not a hero, I only did what anyone would have done. You are not going to leave someone in a burning car that could explode, it is an instinctive reaction to get them out."

"It is nice to be recognised, but it was no big deal really."

No date has yet been scheduled for presentation of the award, which has been made on the recommendation of Wiltshire Police.

Patients back GP petition

A NATIONWIDE campaign urging patients to support their local surgeries has received "good support" in Suffolk.

The Suffolk Local Medical Committee (LMC), which represents local GPs, has been encouraging all practices to support the British Medical Association (BMA) campaign by signing a petition at local surgeries.

The petition calls on the Government to support existing NHS GP surgeries and improve services to patients by investing in existing surgeries, instead of encouraging commercial companies to open large polyclinics, which the BMA claims could destabilise existing GP services.

The first such clinic in Suffolk is due to open in Haverhill next April.

Bill Robinson, chief executive of the LMC, said: "We are asking practices to have one final push in encouraging patients to sign the petition during this week and then to send their petitions to the BMA so that they can all be assembled to be presented to the Prime Minister on June 12."

Carpet blaze

CARPET left outside a home in Haverhill was set alight in the early hours of the morning. The arson attack happened at Wellington Terrace, at around 4.30am on Monday. The fire spread to a utility room which suffered significant damage, before a young woman knocked on the door and alerted the occupants of the house to the fire. Police need to speak to her as she may hold important information about this crime. The woman is described as white, in her late teens, between 5ft and 5ft 3in tall, with mousey hair. NEWS Letters

THE Haverhill Weekly News welcomes your views. Write to: Readers Letters, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF or send an email to editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk Please be as concise as possible and attach your full name, address and telephone number.

Can we really afford to say no to new health care services?

Sir, I refer to the front page article from last week's Weekly News (GPs keep up fight for walk-in clinic rethink) in which Mrs Sissons claimed the doctors of Haverhill do not want this new GP-led medical clinic.

I find it rather odd that your article claims our doctors do not want this as some of them have already shown an interest in forming a partnership to run it.

As I have explained in a previous letter, I agree with Mrs Sissons that it is sad our doctors are having their funding cut. That is always sad and very unfortunate. However, that has nothing to do with this new medical centre as that is coming from a Government grant and not the PCT as such. If our Government wanted to enhance existing doctors' surgeries they would first have to negotiate new terms of employment as these new centres will be open from 8am until 8pm every day of the week.

The Government is also expecting GPs who wish to lead these new centres to do this in partnership with other providers who are more than likely to come from the private sector and, therefore, will be able to provide financial sustainability.

As for taking away existing patients from the existing surgeries, Mrs Sissons got this wrong. Anybody may go into the new centre and see a doctor without having to be registered. Yes, it is okay if you wish to be registered but that is not a condition of using the service as it is with existing surgeries.

My suggestion is that this new centre is built on the other side of the valley to the existing GP surgeries then there is less likelihood of existing patients changing their doctors.

I made the point in my last letter that the good people of Haverhill have been asking for better medical care provision for years and years. Here we at last have the opportunity to realise that wish and people are now saying no. I personally would be prepared to sign another petition asking the Suffolk PCT to reconsider the reduction in funding of our doctors' surgeries in Haverhill but I do not want to see anybody take away something we have been begging for for such a long time.

Mick Smith
Shadowbush Close
Haverhill

Centre will be beneficial

Sir, I have read your front page news about how the GPs at Christmas Maltin surgery and Ann Sissons, practice manager, are doing their best to push patients into signing a petition to try and stop Haverhill getting a much needed walk-in clinic. I find it is disgusting, as it is wicked and is misleading their patients into believing that it is a question of less money for GPs to fund this clinic and that is not true. It seems to me that Mrs Sissons is only thinking of expanding their existing practice.

Haverhill residents have a right to choose if they want health care outside normal surgery hours, and it's about time that diagnostic and secondary care specialised trained consultants run clinics on a weekly basis.

As you will be aware, from April Suffolk PCT is changing the current Personal Medical Services (PMS) contracts, which are used by 46 GP surgeries, two thirds of the total in Suffolk, which serve 450,000 patients.

The changes are being introduced to make funding more equitable between GP practices in Suffolk. This will result in a reduction of funding to Haverhill GP practices.

I know that there is great support for the clinic to go ahead, including from MP Richard Spring, who has fought a campaign for GP practices and who looks at and welcomes a partial solution via the Lord Darzi review of the NHS.

The new health centre offering additional GP appointments, walk-in health services which will open seven days a week from 8am to 8pm and provide extra diagnostic and minor surgery will be of great benefit to Haverhill.

Congestion charge for hospital is 'tax on sick'

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

PATIENTS at Addenbrooke's Hospital have condemned plans to include the hospital in the Cambridge congestion charging zone as "council greed".

Internal documents from the Addenbrooke's Trust, obtained by our sister paper, the Cambridge Evening News under the Freedom of Information Act, show the depth of feeling among patients and hospital bosses.

As many as 1,500 a day could be hit by a charge of between £3 and £5, along with visitors and staff, if the final zone follows Cambridgeshire County Council proposals and includes Addenbrooke's.

Papers from a meeting at the trust show patients objecting to the cost for regular patients, such as those receiving chemotherapy and dialysis, and to the prospect of those rushing to see relatives at A&E being charged.

One patient said: "We view the deliberate extension outwards to include a peripheral area like Addenbrooke's to be a classic example of council greed."

In a letter to the council, Gareth Goodier, the trust's chief executive, said: "If the Addenbrooke's campus was within the charging zone the county council would be targeting individuals already compromised due to illness, worry, or need for surgery."

"The extra expense has been described as a 'tax on the sick and vulnerable'."

The trust estimates 1,500 patients attend the hospital each day between 7.30am and 9.30am each morning, the proposed hours of operation for the charge.

The papers released to the News show Paul Cook, the council's head of transport policy and strategy, attended a meeting with 42 foundation trust members and patients in January.

The papers state Mr Cook said, in response to questions on the impact on dialysis patients and the elderly, that the council is "considering exemptions".

The trust described the consensus of opinion as being that "patients should not be charged to use their hospital".

Written submissions came from patients who could not attend the meeting. One said: "Please express my unqualified opposition to a congestion charge including the hospital area, which amounts to a tax on the sick and the vulnerable, to the appropriate authorities who must have taken leave of their senses to even think of such an idea."

Another said the proposals were "totally ridiculous" as Addenbrooke's is a centre for treatment for the whole of East Anglia, as well as Cambridge.

A council spokeswoman described the views of Addenbrooke's staff and patients as being "very important to us".

She added: "The council has not made any commitment to introducing congestion charging. All of the information and feedback we have gathered is being studied by councillors so an informed decision can be taken about the best way of tackling the growing problem of congestion in Cambridgeshire."

Patient's protest over parking fees

A PATIENT at Addenbrooke's has called on the hospital to cut its controversial parking charges after she paid out £88.50 while receiving treatment for cancer.

Hilary Tunnicliffe, 48, a teacher, of Saxon Road, Cambridge, believes the charges are hard to bear for many long-term patients undergoing regular chemotherapy and dialysis.

The hospital discounts charges for long-term patients, but raised the fee from £2.50 a week to £3 in April. The hospital made nearly £250,000 from the charges for patients, visitors and staff in April alone.

Miss Tunnicliffe, who underwent a year's treatment for breast cancer, also saw her visitors pay an estimated £70 in parking charges. She said: "I would like them to strongly consider people who are going through lengthy treatment being given free parking."

"Knowing how fragile you can feel with radiotherapy and chemotherapy, I just feel it would be one less thing to worry about." She added that making money on the back of some people who are seriously ill was against the ethos of the NHS. Miss Tunnicliffe is now clear of cancer and full of praise for the treatment she received but feels the parking issue needs to be addressed.

She said: "I said to someone at the Wallace Cancer Centre at Addenbrooke's that £88 in parking fees was OK for a year's treatment. She just looked at me and said: 'That could be the last straw for some people's finances'."

"There are hidden costs with having cancer. Some patients will need special underwear that might cost £150. Your heating is on all day. "When you should be focusing on getting better, you don't want to be worrying about whether you have enough change for the meter."

An Addenbrooke's spokeswoman said: "We provide a weekly concession ticket for oncology, dialysis and rehabilitation outpatients which costs £3."

"Concessionary tickets are available and those receiving benefits or on a low income can retrieve their travel costs on-site."

Haverhill

The monthly meeting of Haverhill and District Branch of the U3A (University of the Third Age) was held last Tuesday morning at the Haverhill Arts Centre.

It was attended by a large turn out of members, warmly welcomed by the chairman Jan Howley.

Speaker for the day was Mrs Harrington, governor of St Edmunds Hill Prison, who has held that position since 2004. She gave a most interesting and informative talk on her role as governor and her experiences in the prison service over a period of 20 years, which also involved bringing up a family since 1988. Her experiences at St Edmund Hill were described in much detail, but she said it was now time for her to move on, probably in July. Numerous questions were voiced from the floor and were welcomed and responded to.

Mrs Harrington said many of the inmates came from the London area and some re-offended time and time again. Some 60 per cent of women had mental health issues compared to 20 per cent of men. The problem of communication was evident considering the amount of different languages spoken in this multi-racial society and repatriation was a big problem.

Dogs were trained to sniff out drugs, although some drugs are thrown over the perimeter fences, along with mobile phones.

Mrs Harrington was thanked and applauded for a most interesting and informative talk, providing an eye-opening glimpse of the prison residing on our doorstep.

Magazine to share in success of local firms

A NEW Haverhill magazine is set to be launched to reflect the success of local businesses.

CB9 Business will deliver business news and information to companies and organisations in the CB9 postal area.

Elaine Carr, a director of the magazine, said: "There are a number of excellent business publications around already, however, their news is very much centred on the Eastern region.

"We felt there was a real need for a magazine that concentrates on Haverhill and the surrounding villages. There are so many fantastic things happening in CB9 and we want to make sure everyone is aware of them."

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The magazine will be published three times a year, with the first issue due for distribution towards the end of June.

Steve Darbey, commercial manager of the new magazine (pictured), said: "We will be distributing 3,000 of these high quality, A4, full colour publications free of charge to businesses and appropriate areas of public display in CB9.

"As the owner of Wicked Wheels, a local business with a strong marketing focus, I know from my own experience that there are limited opportunities to communicate our service offer direct to other businesses in the area.

"With escalating fuel costs and the impact of distribution on the environment it makes sense to maximise the potential in your local market place. In order to do that other businesses need to know about you and your product or service offer.

"CB9 Business magazine will do just that."

Fellow director Selina Austin said: "I think CB9 is dynamic enough to support its own magazine.

"We have such a diversity of companies on our doorstep, many of which are market leaders in their field. CB9 Business will provide a platform for these companies to be recognised for their successes in their own area."

Bright sparks to get electricity safety tips

SCHOOLCHILDREN in Suffolk will be put through their paces in a series of workshops organised by EDF Energy Networks to raise awareness of the potential dangers of electricity.

More than 600 primary school pupils from across the county, including those at Kedington Primary School, are expected to attend the hard-hitting safety workshops over the next few weeks.

Children taking part in the hour-long sessions will learn about the hazards of playing near substations and overhead power lines. As part of the session, the youngsters will watch a video about a young boy who is fatally injured after ignoring triangular 'Danger of Death' signs and entering a substation.

They will also learn how high voltage electricity can jump gaps and be conducted through items such as fishing rods and kites, with tragic consequences.

Ros Forbes, EDF Energy Networks education adviser, said: "The interactive nature of the workshops ensures the children understand the potential consequences of playing with electricity. They really benefit from the session and learn valuable safety lessons which will last them a lifetime."

Any school or educational group that would like to increase awareness of electricity among pupils should contact EDF Energy Networks' education team on (01473) 294515.

Meanwhile, EDF Energy has set up a special website to teach children about the wonders and dangers of electricity. The Power Up website - at www.edfenergy.com/powerup - is aimed at students aged seven to 14 and also provides information for teachers and parents.

Rare insight into monastic life in Tibet

RINGING bells, clashing cymbals and booming longhorns will be heard when a group of Tibetan monks appear at Haverhill Arts Centre on Wednesday, June 18. Wearing colourful traditional costumes and ceremonial masks, the Tibetan Tashi Lhunpo monks will provide a feast of colour and sound as they demonstrate ancient traditions and rituals in a dramatic and informative performance, The Power of Compassion.

The monks will perform a selection of dances, chants, processions and prayers, with intriguing names such as the Deer and Buffalo Dance, The Art of Debate and The Black Hat Dance, which will give audiences a rare insight into the often hidden life of the monastery, founded by the first Dalai Lama in 1447.

Speaking to The Independent newspaper, one of the monks, Kelkhang Rinpoche, who joined the monastery at the age of six – having been recognised as a reincarnation of a revered Tibetan Buddhist teacher, said: "What we do on stage is very similar to what we do in the monastery."

"The prayers we see performed are the real thing, not a theatrical recreation. The difference is the scale of time. The hand gestures usually take one day. We have 10 minutes."

The show takes place on Wednesday, June 18, at 7.30pm. Tickets are £10 and available from the box office on (01440) 714140.

New mortgage match offer

LEADING housebuilders George Wimpey East Midlands have brought about a new Mortgage Match offer.

This new scheme will enable buyers to move to a brand new, bigger and better home while George Wimpey pays the difference between their old mortgage and their new mortgage for the next two years. Lynne Hartshorn, regional sales and marketing director, says: "Our Mortgage Match offer makes moving even easier for our customers, taking away financial pressures at a time when, perhaps, they've just changed career and relocated, a new baby is on the way, or that they simply wish to enjoy buying new furnishings for their home.

"By matching their old mortgage, our customers and their families can move to a bigger and better home without having to 'tighten their belts'.

"Instead they can continue the lifestyle they enjoy – the only difference being that it's life in a beautiful brand new home."

Customers can choose from a range of homes at George Wimpey East Midlands' developments. Terms and conditions apply. To find out about Cambridgeshire development at Langton Mews, Wittering, call: 0845 688 1353.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.

MOTORING

Boxer diesel is Subaru first

SUBARU has always been a marginal performer in the UK car sales charts, and one reason for staying that way in recent times has been the complete lack of a diesel option.

So, better late than never for the world's first boxer diesel-engined passenger car is finally a reality, initially available in the Legacy Sports Tourer and Outback, the latter of which is on test here. The yet-to-be-introduced Forester gets it in September, while the Impreza TD follows three months later.

The 2-litre horizontally opposed common-rail unit develops 147bhp and 258lb ft of torque, and in the Outback produces only 153g/km of CO2 emissions (151g/km for the Legacy Sports Tourer). As far as fuel efficiency is concerned, this is the class leader in the four-wheel-drive passenger car class, beating 2-litre rivals including the new Ford Mondeo and Volkswagen Passat.

The engine features liquid mounts and the cars get extra sound-proofing, while the slick five-speed manual gearbox (which has a shorter throw) has higher ratios to suit the stronger torque and lower engine speed characteristics of the engine.

The interior is pleasant thanks to quality plastic and soft-touch trim, and comfortable too thanks to an excellent driving position. The Outback is a grippy and secure handler with the all-wheel-drive system standard on all Subarus. On a long journey in extremely wet and windy weather it performed flawlessly, with a cossetting, finely damped ride and a quiet, dependable "can-do" attitude.

Power steering is electric to improve fuel economy and tuned for stronger feel and responses, while the front spring rates have been reworked to suit the engine and steering system. The front brakes have also been upgraded and work very well indeed.

Although it can be noisy when cold, the engine is pleasantly refined on the motorway. In purely accelerative terms it doesn't push any boundaries, but performance is more than adequate and, with the maximum torque figure available from a mere 1,800rpm the unit is supremely flexible. It's also unusually free-breathing for a diesel and perfectly happy to keep pulling at high revs. Bravo Subaru.

Basically...

The Outback offers dependable and flexible family transport with the added security and off-roading ability of Subaru's full-time symmetrical all-wheel-drive system. The price looks a little on the steep side until you look at the standard specification levels, which are exceptionally high.

■ STYLISH... the Renault Laguna Coupe should handle as well as it looks.

Renault unveils the sublime Laguna Coupe to universal acclaim in France

RENAULT chose to unveil its stylish new Laguna Coupe on probably the most glamorous weekend of the year.

The Laguna Coupe could be seen about the south coast of France, taking in the Cannes Film Festival and Monaco Grand Prix.

The sleek addition to the Laguna range had the covers taken off at the film festival on Saturday and then had a few laps of the legendary street circuit put under it by two of Renault F1's test drivers.

Renault has confirmed that the Laguna Coupe will feature either a 3.0 litre V6 diesel engine with 232bhp or a 3.5-litre V6 petrol producing 236bhp. Both will be potent powerplants but the V6 dCi diesel will offer 332 lb.ft of torque, promising some serious overtaking potential and sub-seven seconds 0-62mph potential.

The four-wheel steering from the Laguna GT is also to be found under the skin of the Coupe and this will combine with Active Drive and input from RenaultSport engineers to produce, what should be, a superbly handling car. The Laguna Coupe will certainly not be all "show" and no "go".

This weekend's appearances for the Laguna Coupe are something of a sneak-peek as the official unveiling will come at the Paris Motor Show later this year. Expect the Coupe to be available to buy from mid-October.

First live TV ad for launch of Accord

THE new Accord was launched at John Banks Honda last week, accompanied by a world first – a live TV advertisement which was transmitted on Channel 4 Thursday evening.

The Newmarket Road dealership has been geared up for weeks for the launch of the new saloon, which features three engine options – a 2.0-litre i-VTEC, a 2.4-litre i-VTEC and a 2.2-litre i-DTEC, with the latter introducing Honda's second-generation diesel.

With prices starting at £19,500 the new Accord was unveiled to an eager audience at the dealership's Newmarket Road site last night.

"We have a 2.0-litre Accord at the showroom which is taxed so potential customers can book a test drive for the weekend," says John Banks' sales manager James Bonner. The showroom is open from 9am until 5pm tomorrow and 11am until 3pm on Sunday.

Honda's TV ads are based on the philosophy of its founder, Soichiro Honda, who once said "Difficult is worth doing".

■ HONDA ACCORD TOURER... aimed at BMW's 3 Series.

The three minute live spot shown on Thursday was filmed in real-time with no special effects.

The campaign continued on Sunday when "Jump", the main TV advert, debuts. Filmed in the Mojave Desert, California, the ad features a large team of skydivers attempting to form shapes in the sky that hint at new technologies on the Honda Accord. These shapes include a suspension spring, a camera, a steering wheel; and ultimately the word "Accord".

The live ad takes its lead from this idea – with a team of 19 skydivers attempting to form the letters "H" "O" "N" "D" "A" within the live three-minute time limit.

Call John Banks Honda on (01223) 359151 for test drive details.

■ TOUGH TASK... advertisement showed shapes linked to technologies in the latest Honda Accord while skydivers hurtled towards the ground.

MOTORING

A great time to look at a Saab

MANY keen motorists aspire to owning a car made by Saab. The Swedish manufacturer enjoys an enviable reputation for producing fine quality vehicles that offer excellent performance, great handling and superb build quality.

This Saturday, June 7, Cambridge Saab is offering you the opportunity to purchase a Saab at a very affordable price. Call into the dealership this Saturday and you will find savings of up to £6,000 off pre-registered and ex-demonstrator Saab cars. Pre-registered models will all feature delivery mileages only while the virtually new ex-demonstrator vehicles will all be low mileage examples. It's worth bearing in mind that purchasing an ex-demonstrator allows you to relax safe in the knowledge that the car that you have chosen will have been regularly valeted, serviced and kept in top condition. After all, it has been used by the dealer to entice people to buy.

In addition to these cars, Cambridge Saab have a fine selection of used Saabs and each one will have been prepared to the dealership's impeccably high standards prior to sale. During this Summer Sale day, you will be able to find prices reduced on many selected vehicles with up to £2,000 taken off windscreen prices. What is more, when you buy a used vehicle through this dealership this Saturday, you'll gain a Saab Approved dealer guarantee which is recognised as being one of the most comprehensive in its cover in the industry. It also brings full AA Assistance cover, not that you'll need it given Saab's excellent reputation for dependability, but its good to know that it's there. This 12 month Unlimited Mileage guarantee also covers brakes, the battery and clutch if they were to cause a problem within the 12-month cover period. In the very unlikely event that you are not totally satisfied with your Saab Approved car, there's also the 30 Day Money Back Guarantee, so for you, it's a win, win situation!

The Saab range includes the 9-3 sports saloon, Sportswagen and Convertible and the 9-5 sports saloon and estate. There are even eco-friendly Bio-Power versions of the 9-5 while the 9-3's Convertible offers ideal fresh air motoring for the summer. With price reductions of up to £2,000 off the list price of selected used Saabs, and up to £6,000 taken off the price of pre-registered and ex-demonstrators, now is the time to visit Cambridge Saab. With around 20 ex-demonstrators and pre-registered Saabs and 40 Saab Approved used vehicles available this weekend, surely there's never been a better time to purchase the car that you have always promised yourself.

It is also worth remembering

that when you purchase a new or used Saab through Cambridge Saab you gain the aftersales back-up of an excellent dealership. When a prestigious manufacturer like Saab allows a company to become a part of their dealer network, they take great care as to who is awarded or allowed to keep the franchise. Any dealership which wishes to maintain their status as an officially-sanctioned Saab dealership must adhere to the manufacturer's stringently high standards across every aspect of operation, from sales to parts and servicing. Cambridge Saab more than satisfies all those requirements, and as a customer you can expect to receive total satisfaction and the highest levels of service.

The Saab Sales Event starts this Saturday at 8.30am and closes at end of business at 5pm at Cambridge Saab, which you will find at 58 High Street in Harston, Cambridge, CB22 7PZ. Call the friendly sales team on (01223) 873660 to find out more.

CRICKET ROUND-UP

GARY Ellis was left disappointed after watching his Horseheath side lose to Fordham in their npower Village Cup, regional semi-final on Sunday.

The captain won the toss and inserted the visitors and saw Mark Silcock (37), Neil Clark (34) and Matt Foulds (25) all contribute to Fordham's total of 157 all out. Stuart Ketteridge took 3 for 37 and Martin Towers collected 2 for 29.

Horseheath never got going in reply, despite the efforts of Ketteridge (23) and Ellis (13), and they were dismissed for 83, with Craig Theobald (5 for 17) and Clinton Cornwell (3 for 33) doing the damage.

Ellis said: "The batting was our downfall, and every time we played an attacking stroke it got caught or didn't get off the square."

The previous day, Horseheath suffered an eight-wicket defeat in their Cheffins CCA Senior League, Division One match at St Ives Town.

Saints captain Simon Jones won the toss and saw Ollie King (4 for 24) and Mark Leach (3 for 46) leave Horseheath reeling as they were bundled out for 127.

Alan Ketteridge and Dan Goldsmith were the away side's best performers with 31 and 26 respectively.

And Richard Greiller hit 59 not out and Jones added an undefeated 30 as St Ives successfully reached 129 for 2.

HAVERHILL'S hopes of getting back to winning ways in Division Two of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship were dealt a blow as they crashed by 118 runs at home to Brightlingsea on Saturday.

The hosts looked to have kept Brightlingsea on a tight rein before they suddenly got away to make 223 for 5 and, in response, Haverhill were bowled out for 105.

Skipper Rob Sullivan said: "We got outplayed in every aspect. At one stage they were scoring seven or eight an over and when we batted, we lost an early wicket and kept consistently losing them."

WESTON COLVILLE skipper Adie Westley's 52 proved to be in vain as his side slipped to a two-wicket defeat at the hands of Peterborough-based Khalsa in Division Two of the Tucker Gardner Cambs and Hunts Premier League.

Colville, who were dismissed for 121, took eight points.

GOLF

Curry team red hot as they march on in cup

THERE has been a mixed bag of results for Haverhill Golf Club teams. An away defeat in the Hambro Cup at Aldeburgh was counterbalanced by an away win against Bungay in the Tolly Cobbold.

And, while the ladies were losing, away to Woodbridge, in the Cranworth Cup, the Curry Cup team became front-runners in the competition by winning 14½-6½ at Epping.

■ Some remarkable scores were returned in the Junior Spring Cup, with Jack Warwick taking the medal section from Harvey Bavester and Chris Vince, 63, 64 and 66 being the net figures for the top three. In the stableford group, the winning trio were Jamie Harris (46), Michael Perrett (45) and Chris Jones (41).

■ Ross Curl produced an ace at the 128-yard eighth hole in the summer eclectic competition. The club he used at the par 3 was a wedge.

■ There were also smiles on the seniors' faces when they scrambled a win against Bourne by 4½-3½.

■ Prizes galore were on offer in the Linton Enterprise Classic, which is sponsored by many local businesses. The leading pair in the four-ball, better-ball stableford were Lee Chandler and Joe Davis (46), who were followed in by Russell Gitty and Oliver Cracknell (44), with Jason Letton and Mark Barrett a further two in arrears.

Another lucky competitor on the day was Kim Ward, who deposited his tee shot into the hole at the par-three eighth.

■ Top finishers in the ladies' May stableford were Sue Carr (39), Sally Price (38) and Denise Walker (38).

■ John Carr featured in the shake-up of the Mick Beddoes Cup when partnering Doreen Darbey. Their 37 stableford points took first spot by two from Gordon and Sheila Price.

■ IFF Challenge round results:

Division One - M Warren 66, H Mills, T Marsh 68. Division Two - E Bates 65, P Barsham 67, R Baker 69.

Division Three - R Sloman 60, P Mansfield 65, T Broomfield 68.

■ Sunday's Douglas Bader Cup was decided on countback as Simon and Sally Price edged out Andrew and Lyn Fish. Both pairs finished with 44 stableford points, which was three up on the third-placed pair of Steve Nichols and Pam Ratford. The Prices now go forward to a regional final at Ely City GC.

Sendall's win is just for Starters

HAVERHILL Tennis Club juniors have been having a successful season, achieving some fine results.

At the U12 Starter event, Harry Sendall won the boys' event, beating Christopher Hoole (Newmarket) 4-2, 4-2 in the final.

Haverhill's Harriet Patrick finally managed to beat club-mate Christie Roberts to win her first tournament, while Poppy Philipps was unlucky not to qualify for the final, losing out on game difference.

Gregory Birch has been playing on the Mini Tennis Cambridgeshire and Suffolk circuit in their red Haverhill sent a Red Mini team to Ipswich, where 10 other teams were competing, and came back with the gold medal.

The team was Birch, Toby Fellows, Ethan Webb and Sorchia McCooey.

The Haverhill club was well represented in the U12 and U14 County Starter finals, where Ross Tobin, Rachel Jeffs and Christie Roberts finished fourth and Patrick went one better, finishing third.

Tobin and Jeffs were also victorious at the U14 Starter Event held at Haverhill.

Haverhill fielded a boys team in a Champions League Red Event at Newmarket, playing against two teams from Culford and one from Newmarket.

They won 13 of their matches with their nearest rivals managing only eight wins. The line-up of Birch, Toby Fellows, Prince Mutswunguma, Callum Edwards and Joseph Morley won the event to qualify for the county finals.

FOOTBALL: STALWART OFF AS NEW BOSS ARRIVES

'Local boy' Hunt goes a-Roving

MARCUS Hunt has set his sights on a fairytale return to Haverhill in the twilight of his career after deciding to leave the club for a fresh challenge.

The long-serving captain has left Hamlet Croft and will be making the step up to the British Gas Business Southern League Division One Midlands with Sudbury next season.

Hunt had been on Haverhill's books for 11 years and was caretaker player-manager for his final two months at the club following the resignation of boss Steve Taylor.

And with chairman Steve Brown appointing Larry Billings as Taylor's long-term successor at the Ridgeons League, Premier Division outfit, the stalwart felt the time was right to move to fresh pastures.

Hunt said: "Sudbury came in for me and I decided that it was the right time to go.

"I'd been at Haverhill for 11 years and I thought it was now or never as I'm 27 and I want to test myself at a higher level. It's a step up in quality, but hopefully I can rise to the challenge.

"Haverhill's my home-town club and I enjoyed every minute of my time there, although the last few months were quite difficult.

"I've got no regrets about staying there for as long as I did as I've had some great years there, made some good friends and have some great memories."

And Hunt, who will be playing his trade in the same division as newly-promoted Soham next term, would like to play on the Hamlet Croft turf again some day. He said: "I've left the club on good terms and the door's still open if it doesn't work out for me and I'd like to go back there.

■ ON THE MOVE... Marcus Hunt, who has joined Sudbury.

"I might even end my career at Haverhill, as a lot of people tend to go back to their roots at the end of their careers and I may well do that," he added.

Billings, who has managed at Sunday League level and enjoyed success in the Lord Chancellor's Department Cup with Provad Rovers, is looking forward to making the step up to Ridgeons League football.

He said: "I know the limitations that I have, but I also know I have some qualities that could lead to success.

"It's a good set-up, the club is established and I'm not coming in to change lots of things, but I want to see if things can be tweaked and fine-tuned."

SWIMMING

■ GUTTED... Alan Bircher, whose Beijing hopes have disappeared.

Bircher's Olympic dreams in tatters

ALAN Bircher has suffered the heartbreak of missing out on qualification for the Beijing Olympics. The Haverhill swimmer finished a lowly 21st in the 10km event at the World Open Water Swimming Championships in Seville last month. But despite there being a further Olympic qualifying competition in Beijing this weekend for those who finished outside the top 10, Bircher will not be there to try his luck, ironically due to the success of his training partner David Davies. Davies took silver in the worlds behind Russia's Vladimir Dyatchin and automatically booked his place on the plane to China. However, to earn a second place for Great Britain in the Olympic competition, Bircher, 26, also needed to finish in the top 10 as well. Had neither swimmer featured in the higher echelons, Bircher, who won silver at the worlds in 2004, would have been eligible for a second bite of the cherry. He said: "It isn't possible for me to qualify and I'm pretty gutted, to be honest. "I was in the best swimming shape of my life, but made some errors tactically at the worlds. I won't lie, I haven't been in the water since the race." But rather than mope about his misfortune, Bircher is concentrating on coaching girlfriend, and fellow swimmer, Stefanie Biller in her assault on the Marathon Swimming World Cup. The German, who trains alongside Bircher at Bath University, has won European Championships medals at 5km and 25km and now faces five races in successive weekends ranging in distance from 19km to 36km.
